

82nd Annual

Scottsdale

NCBJ/2008

National Conference of Bankruptcy Judges
September 24-27, 2008

Scottsdale
2008

Welcome!

JOIN US IN THE LAND OF WILDCATS AND SUN DEVILS!

To those of you who have participated in prior annual meetings of the National Conference of Bankruptcy Judges, I want to thank you. It is the attendees who in large part make these meetings what they are. Please come again and enjoy what I believe will be an exceptional educational experience in a location and facility rivaled by few others. To those who have not been to one of our annual meetings, please give us a try. You, too, will then be a significant reason why this year's meeting of the National Conference of Bankruptcy Judges will continue the long tradition of successful programs.

It has been more than two decades since the National Conference of Bankruptcy Judges held an annual meeting in Arizona. This year, we are returning for our eighty-second annual meeting at the JW Marriott Desert Ridge Resort which is located in Phoenix just across the street from Scottsdale. In addition to the fact that the JW Marriott Desert Ridge Resort is one of the newest Marriott resorts, it is also one of the nicest. Because we anticipate a large attendance, we encourage everyone to register as early as possible.

You will notice some new features. As reflected in the brochure, one is a change from the traditional President's Opening Reception. The final night dinner entertainment is by the funniest accountant alive—yes, in a prior life he was an accountant—Bob Newhart. Another is the written materials for the NCBJ's education programs. This year, a printed outline will be given to all registrants along with a searchable CD. Additionally, access to the full text of each presenter's materials will be available to registrants on-line two weeks before the meeting.

Some of what I believe are the more significant enhancements are those made to the education programs. As in the past, programs are being presented or co-sponsored by the American Bar Association, the American Bankruptcy Institute, the American College of Bankruptcy, the Commercial Law League of America, the Association of Insolvency & Restructuring Advisors, INSOL International, and the International Women's Insolvency and Restructuring Confederation. Each of these groups has put together, either alone or in conjunction with the NCBJ, programs which are timely in content and will be of great interest and use to you. This year the NCBJ has made some important improvements to our program. One is a panel discussion between Constitutional scholars from differing points of the philosophical spectrum of recent Supreme Court cases. Another is greater involvement of others outside the bankruptcy community. For instance, we are fortunate to have the youngest secretary treasurer of the AFL-CIO as a panelist on labor issues in bankruptcy. Another is a program by one of the most highly regarded experts on First Amendment law who is giving a presentation on commercial speech. As your review of this brochure will reveal, we have tried to address many of the issues of the moment such as subprime mortgages and the liquidity crisis. You will see new panelists and panels along with some of the more tried and true. Lastly, we have expanded our programs planned in collaboration with other groups. We will have a repeat of the highly successful roundtable groups with the American Bankruptcy Institute and have added collaborative programs with the American Bar Association, the Commercial Law League of America, and INSOL International.

On the lighter side, the Phoenix/Scottsdale area has a number of attractions beyond the golf courses. For all attendees, spouses, and other guests, we have arranged an informal program to allow interaction with one of the finest plastic and reconstructive surgeons in the country. We have also arranged tours of the Heard Museum, the Desert Botanical Garden, an off-road desert adventure, a golf tournament at JW Marriott's Nick Faldo designed course, segway tours of the desert around the resort, a Taliesin West and Wrigley Mansion excursion, and a day trip to Sedona.

So, please accompany us to the 2008 National Conference of Bankruptcy Judges' annual meeting to ensure that it will be another great educational event!

Thomas B. Bennett
President, NCBJ

Lawrence O'Donnell is an Emmy-Winning Executive Producer, a Senior Political Analyst on MSNBC, and a panelist on the McLaughlin Group. As Executive Producer of NBC's The West Wing, he won numerous awards, including the 2000 Humanitas Prize for writing that "communicates those values which most enrich the human person" for an episode he co-wrote with Aaron Sorkin on the death penalty. O'Donnell speaks about politics on television, the effects of rhetoric on a world audience, and the differences between campaigning and governing.

Not just a living Op-Ed. During the election year 2000, he was a contributing editor of New York Magazine with a column on national politics. From 1993 through 1995, he was the Democratic Chief of Staff of the United States Senate Committee on Finance. 9:30 am Heard Museum Tour

11:00 am Depart for Desert Botanical Garden

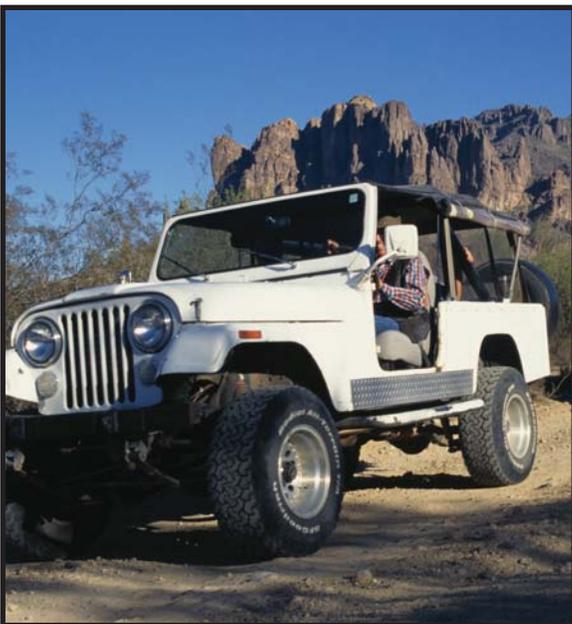

12:30 pm Lunch at Desert Botanical Garden

1:30 pm Depart for hotel

You will begin this tour with a trip back to 1929 when Dwight and Marie Heard built this adobe-style home. The building is nestled on a tree-lined street in the heart of Phoenix. The internationally acclaimed Museum is one of the best places to experience and learn about the fascinating cultures and art of Native Americans of the Southwest. The Spanish Colonial-style architecture of the Museum and its arched walkways, spacious galleries, outdoor bricked patios and fountains, and lush desert landscapes add to the rich Southwestern experience that awaits you.

The next stop on your tour will be the Desert Botanical Garden. You will begin your tour viewing an incredible display of cacti, succulents, trees and flowers from the Southwestern region of the United States. At no other single location will you find such a remarkable collection of desert plants growing naturally in a spectacular outdoor setting. The garden is also home to animals such as the jackrabbit and kangaroo squirrel. Heading toward the new Dorrance Hall, you will pass saguro, barrel cacti, jumping cholla and other cacti found throughout the Sonoran desert. You will enter through the beautiful Ottosen Gallery Lobby. Several sets of glass doors open onto the Kitchell Patio on the north side of the hall and to a breezeway on the south side. After spending the day soaking up the astounding beauty of this desert oasis you will be treated to a plated luncheon at the Gardens.

We recommend you wear closed toe comfortable walking shoes, some fabulous sunglasses and some sunscreen for this unforgettable experience bringing both the architectural and landscape beauty that you can only find here in the Southwest.

You will learn about Native American use of desert plants and cacti in their everyday lives, plants used for medical purposes, plants used for direction, plants that can be used for food and water, and desert survival techniques of deer, coyote, javalina and other animals. You will then be escorted to the Tonto Bar and Grill for lunch.

In 1937, Frank Lloyd Wright created a remarkable set of buildings at the foothills of the McDowell Mountains. Taliesin West, set amidst 600 acres of Sonoran beauty in North Scottsdale, was Wright's personal winter residence and studio. It was also the home of the Taliesin Fellowship, a group of 23 young “disciples” who built the complex under Wright's direction. Long regarded by architectural critics as a masterpiece, the U.S. government declared it a National Historic Landmark in 1987.

Moving right along you will be taken to the Wrigley Mansion next. Formerly owned and built by the famous chewing gum family, this unique home features 24 rooms and 17 bathrooms and a history to rival its architecture. Sitting atop a knoll overlooking the world famous Arizona Biltmore Resort and downtown Phoenix, every room is truly a “room with a view.” The architecture of the house combines Spanish Colonial Revival, California Monterey and Mediterranean. While at the Wrigley Mansion you will also be treated to a beautifully plated lunch.

If you love history and architecture you will love this tour! Please wear comfortable shoes, and bring your cameras along for this exciting tour!

Bob Newhart

Bob Newhart's career has spanned two successful television shows, fourteen feature films, sold millions of albums worldwide and still performs to sell-out crowds all over the country. Fans flock to Bob's live performances to hear such Newhart standards as The Driving Instructor, Sir Walter Raleigh, and The Submarine Commander. These timeless classics are enjoyed by young and old alike in sold-out concert halls across America.

And yet, Bob's career began, in a quite unassuming fashion while working as an accountant in Chicago. Bob, being bored with his accounting work, would call Ed Gallagher, a friend from a suburban Chicago Stock Company and improvise comedy routines. It was suggested that they record and syndicate them. They did and were imminently unsuccessful. Ed, an advertising executive, was offered a job in New York and accepted it, leaving Bob with the difficult job of going it alone. He knocked around Chicago finding occasional work in voice-overs and commercials while still writing additional material. Through a friendship with disc jockey Dan Sorkin, Bob met with the head of Warner Brother's Records, who upon hearing Bob's material offered him a recording contract.
