Cajun & Creole Cuisine Cooking Class

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14, 2010

Price: $47 per person
Maximum: 25 people
Time: 9:30am - 1:00pm
Departure: A tour guide will meet participants at the 2nd side drive of the Hilton to walk the "class" to the French Qtr.
Included: Lunch including dessert and beverages. Also copies of the recipes demonstrated on that day.

On this day, you will have the amazing experience of having one of the best local chefs teach you the secrets and techniques of true Cajun and Creole cooking. The making of a roux (essential in Cajun/Creole cooking) will be the first lesson. Then the Chef will demonstrate the various styles and differences of this fascinating Louisiana cuisine. During the demonstrations, traditional New Orleans style coffee will be served.

After the Chef has finished the class, you will be served the food that was created!

Abita is a Louisiana brewery that uses local Louisiana cane sugar in making their famous root beer!

Advisory: Wear comfortable walking shoes, and bring your wallet/purse as there is an opportunity to purchase New Orleans School of Cooking aprons, cookbooks and spices.

TPC Louisiana is a PGA TOUR facility and home of the Zurich Classic of New Orleans, Louisiana's only PGA TOUR event.

When TPC Louisiana debuted in 2004, Golf Digest named it the No.4 Best Upscale Public Golf Course in the Nation. The course layout was crafted by world renowned golf course architect Pete Dye. The course is situated on 250 acres across the Mississippi River from New Orleans. The course features rolling hills, several wetlands areas, and many stately stands of cypress and oak trees. This course promises an enjoyable, as well as a picturesque, challenge to all skill levels.
